

ANDREEA IOAN

Pediatrician

SHORT BIO

Andreea Ioan is a pediatrician at Emergency Clinical Hospital for Children Marie S. Curie, Bucharest, the largest pediatric hospital in Romania. Andreea's main aim is to expand her expertise in Pediatric Immunology to identify children with IEI, currently underdiagnosed in her area.

She graduated from the Bucharest University of Medicine in 2015 among the first ten percent and studied the fifth year of medical school at the University Claude-Bernard Lyon 1, France, with a particular focus on pediatrics. During residency, she gained experience working in a Pediatric Immunology Department for almost three years under the close supervision of a senior consultant in Immunology formerly trained in Newcastle, UK. Her scientific work has been published in high-ranked journals.

Andreea is inspired daily by her husband and their triplets. She hopes that children in Romania will have access to newborn screening for IEI in the following decade.